TropEco Interns make a significant contribution to sustainability at JCU. You will gain skills and knowledge to implement sustainability programs at JCU, or in the wider the community. By participating in the TropEco Interns program you receive certification for your actions and join students making a difference towards a sustainable future. Please fill in the following application form and email the completed form to tropeco@jcu.edu.au. Your campus TropEco team member will contact you to discuss your internship.